Celebrating

15 YEARS OF LIFE-CHANGING WORK!

Andrea Miller has taken her personal hardships and turned them into blessing and opportunity for others around the world. Having been diagnosed with brain cancer in her first year of life, Andrea faced surgeries that removed one-third of her brain and resulted in strokes, headaches and seizures. The prognosis for her quality of life and even survival were quite bleak.

Yet this young woman is living a life that is not only remarkable but could be accurately termed miraculous. Andrea defied all medical speculations and graduated from high school as an honor roll student.

Andrea's deep faith in God motivates her in all that she does. Believing that He created her exactly as she is for a purpose, Andrea uses her challenges as a platform to bring attention to those who are less fortunate. "Adversity has given me a forum by which I can bring hope to others," she noted.

Andrea has authored two books and her current artistic project, seashell art crosses that she designs and produces, is so much in demand that she can barely keep up with the orders! Having received a Seizure Assistance Dog named Drake, she can enjoy a greater degree of independence. That is crucial, because the young author, poet, artist and entrepreneur has a lot that she wants and needs to accomplish. Andrea puts it simply, "God is good all the time." Her life is proof of that truth.

GIVING WIDS A CHANCE

ALRIGHT

You hear the bird's call
You see the trees tall
You hear the quiet river run
You listen to the children having fun
You look up to the moonlight
In the darkness of the night
You see the stars tiny light
And you know everything will be all right

~Andrea Miller

ANDREA MILLER & SEIZURE ASSIST DOG DRAKE

Knowing Drake is there by her side and that his vest will alert people to Andrea's medical needs gives her the confidence she was looking for to lead a more independent life.
